

To: Broken Wings Ministry

We at the Enterprise Church of Christ would sincerely like to thank you for the session that was given at the church regarding your battle and survival with breast cancer. Your testimony resonated with our spirits as you gave an account of your cumbersome fight that ended in victory through the help of God's unmerited favor and never ending love.

Again, we sincerely thank you for everything that you shared with us; your pain, your struggle, your despair but ultimately, your triumph. Any time that you would love to visit our congregation again, feel free to let us know and we will happily welcome you.

I met Jennifer in 2009 when I was undergoing chemotherapy treatment. The circumstances under which we met were totally unplanned and some would say; a coincidence. However, I see it in a different way..... I believe that God placed her in my life at that particular time in order to provide much-needed knowledge, support and encouragement and to remind me that He is with me always, regardless of the challenge, and that there is a blessed life beyond the valley.

At the presentation on July 16, 2014, at the Enterprise Church of Christ, Barbados, Jennifer conveyed not only the message of God's love, faith and hope when facing breast cancer but also when we face any challenge or difficulty in life. She also emphasized the importance of sharing in order to help each other. Jennifer was excellent and I thank God for bringing her and Arlington into my life. May God continue to bless them as they continue their Ministry.

I am sure that the evening was a blessing to all who attended and I am glad that I was able to assist in making it happen.

Let me start by saying a big thank you to Dr. Jennifer for coming to share her own experience with breast cancer. I had no regrets in attending the session and must also say thanks to Sonia for inviting me.

Sharing is caring. At this session there was an explosion of love and excitement of an individual (Dr. J) Who did not only take the journey of breast cancer with many hurdles, but she was able to accept each challenge and turn them into success with the help of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

Dr J was real; no frills, just basic facts. It was evident that she fought the good fight of faith and held on to eternal life. In her session she wanted us her audience to do likewise. She not only educated those with cancer but she encouraged others to take charge and get acquainted with their bodies. It was a fantastic session.

I wish Dr. J & her husband all the best in their work within God's vineyard and this special Ministry.

The session started off very well and it ended in a most inspiring evening. Jennifer gave you hope, letting you know that God is in control and we can take our problems to Him and He is there for us no matter what.

I learnt the importance of sharing. Jennifer went through a lot and she is still smiling and sharing and that is the only way we can help each other. God was in that place last night. You could feel His presence.

Whatever the situation, we should be there for one another, showing them love.

Last night was amazing. The Spirit of Love and Peace was in the place last night.

Jennifer's presentation prepared me for what I have to face at work today.

It truly was a wonderful evening. I could feel not only God's presence, but His love in that church. The words "you don't know what people are going through" were so poignant. For sure it was no accident we were all there and definitely not by chance it rained for some time after Jennifer's presentation ended and persons used that time to share. What an awesome God we serve!

I was blessed to hear Dr. Agard shared her testimony and how God healed her from cancer. I could not wait until she finished speaking, but went up to tell her of my first chemotherapy next Monday and I am afraid. She prayed for me. Then her husband, Mr. Agard prayed for me to ask Jesus in my heart. I am now a Christian.

The next day, Dr. Agard came to my home and blessed me with personal items. She is really a servant of God.
